“ I miss you a lot pops. I used to enjoy those 0630 am hour drives home where I would call to talk to stay awake. It was mostly listening, but it worked. You had a nice service, and a great turnout despite the cold weather. Let me know if your allowed to do any riding or shooting in or around the Lord's house, because I'm sure you probably think you wings are over rated. ;)

“ Hunting at tall timbers many years ago, I recall not dropping my first deer. I was so upset that it might suffer too long. Larry was over the next ridge. Within a couple of minutes... Bang! So grateful my father-in-law was there.

“ Love you Larry! Told you many times and wish you were here to tell you many more times. New Years Eve will not be the same without you and my sister. We've had good times and Ralph and I will miss you terribly and was so glad I felt good enough to send you my potato soup on Monday before your death and that you enjoyed it so much. We were planning on sharing our stuffing that you loved so much after Thanksgiving, but not to be.

“ Going to miss you Cuz. Your laugh. Your knowledge. You had so much to share and teach. As kids we competed at how many pancakes or ears of corn we could eat. You tried to teach me to ride one of those darn motorcycles. Did better teaching me to shoot. Yes it won't be the same without you.
Love you Cuz.

“ Larry and I spent countless hours together hunting deer, grouse, pheasants, squirrels, etc. in Pennsylvania where we were both transplants. Guns, shooting, cars, women, and beer were subjects that kept us yakking long into the night. (And I'm here to tell you he surely could yak!) He made every effort to live life to the fullest, and just about the time I was getting up to speed with the latest direction he was taking us, off he would go in a new direction. If I had to sum up Larry from my perspective- he had fun!

I shall miss him for the rest of my days.

“ I remember Uncle Larry as the quintessential adventurer. Music...canjo, saw, guitar, banjo & dulcimer to name a few. Motorcycles...because of him I have my motorcycle endorsement. Guns & knives...how he loved rendezvous, cowboy shooting and Pow Wows! He enjoyed his Big Boy toys...forever a kid at heart! Rest now and enjoy some hunting and fishing with your dad and grandpa. You were the best uncle ever. We love you...Cheri, Jared & Brie

“ Rest in Peace now, Larry. I remember the good times we had riding cycles, playing guitars and singing. But most of all ... YOU raised our sons fine and made good, smart, men out of them. I'm proud of YOU for that...Things that I couldn't teach them...Thank You. They'll continue carrying the SHULL name with proudness and dignity. You can be proud.
