“ My sincerest sympathies to the family. What a blessing you were to your brother. I have the fondest memories of “ The Rebel” Roger. He was one of the first people I met when I arrived in Newcomerstown. I enjoyed his stories and getting to know your sweet mother. Thank you for the memories! I am sure there is a big chocolate bar waiting for you my friend!

“ Jeff and Linda; I only have fond memories of Rog as your mom called him. We played ball in the cow pasture using cow patties as bases, stacked hay in the mow that he threw to us, taught two "city slickers" to square dance, loved his grandmother, came to visit my mom and dad quite frequently with tall tales of his adventures, drove or should I say floored it when driving, and generally a happy go lucky guy. You and Linda gave so much to Roger; a listening ear, a soothing voice, a caring heart, a helping hand, a healing hug, and a cheering smile. Your giving nature and unselfish ways were a blessing to Roger. May you find peace in being the most caring brother. Love ya, Kit
